Lee Anthony Taylor

Lee's evident passion for his work and unique teaching style has been universally acclaimed for its simplicity and its highly effective delivery. He is a reflexology practitioner, teacher and Conference Speaker. His fresh approach on challenging subjects such as cancer, multiple sclerosis and diabetes has been welcomed by students, who have been given guidance on how to apply their skills and knowledge. Lee pioneered Coronal Zone Reflex Therapy™ – a powerful but subtle form of reflexology which has been praised by both practitioners and patients for its immediate health benefits. He has authored three books on the subject: 'Effective Reflexology™' and 'Effective Reflexology – the Way Forward' with the third one in the works. He maintains his roots as a practitioner and has been dubbed as the 'reflexologist that reflexologists go to see'. As ICR President, Lee's vision is to spread the message about the benefits of reflexology to a much wider audience and convert the public to trying out the therapy as a treatment of choice rather than a last resort.
